

Presented by:

SMITH COLLEGE
School for Social Work

VETERANS
Education
PROJECT

Understanding and Healing War's Deepest Wounds

with

Robert E. Meagher
Author of

Mark I. Nickerson
Author of

Edward Tick
Author of

Three authors of recent books who examine war trauma and healing share their work and join our moderator to discuss the challenge that faces us all: How can war Veterans come back whole to themselves, their families, and their community?

Moderator: Kathryn Basham, Ph.D., LICSW, Professor and Co-Director of the Ph.D. Program at the Smith College School for Social Work. Her research and therapy practice address the effects of deployment, combat stress and re-integration on Veterans and their families.

Thursday, April 9 • Smith College, Seelye Hall #106
7:00 P.M., Free Admission

Co-sponsors include: Central Hampshire Veterans Services, Northwestern District Attorney's Veterans Justice Partnership, Soldier's Heart, Western Mass. Veterans Outreach Project, Northampton First Churches Peace and Justice Committee, Wesley United Methodist Church Council, Northampton-Florence Unitarian Society Social Justice Committee, Amherst Unitarian Universalist Society

*An event for Veterans, military families, helping professionals and the general public
Call 413-253-4947 for more information*